ELIMINATING MARS AND RUSSIA as sources of the "flying saucers," a national magazine declares the mystery discs are of American design and that the Navy is probably the agency making them. While denials were coming from both Navy and Air Force sources, it was recalled that experiments were made some time ago with a small-scale model of the Navy XF5U-1, pictured above in flight. The full-sized prototype never attempted a flight, although considered the forerunner of so-called "flying saucers."

2 Kansas City Politicos Killed In Clubrooms

Binaggio, Power In City Machine, And Aide Murdered

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6—(UP) — Charles Binaggio, north side Democratic political boss, and his right-hand man, Hoodlum Charles Gargotta, were shot to death early today in the Binaggio political clubrooms on Truman road near the downtown district.

Both men had been shot once in the head.

Police said they believed the men were killed about midnight. Their bodies were discovered at 4 a. m. by a taxicab driver who heard water running inside the darkened club.

Patrolmen Clarence Hoffman and Raymond Sumner found Gargotta's body on the floor just inside the front door.

It was not until some time later, when detectives and other officers entered the club, that they found Binaggio's body in the chair at the rear of the clubroom.

Gargotta was running when he was shot.

He appeared to have been clawing at the Venetian blind on the front door when he was nailed from behind with a shot which struck him in the left side of the head.

Binaggia, coatless, was killed as he sat in the chair, apparently talking to the man who fired the fatal shot into his right temple.

Police found $2,041 in Gargotta's pockets. Binaggio had $24 in his pockets. They had been killed with shots from a .38 caliber pistol.

Homicide Lt. Harry Nesbitt said he believed Binaggio was caught by surprise. The position of Gargotta's body indicated he ran for h[illegible] life but could not quite reac[illegible] the front door.

W. A. C[illegible]brill, 43, the taxi driver, said he had parked his cab and was going into a lunchroom near the clubroom when he heard the water running from a flush bowl in the club. It was dark inside the place and somehow the combination arounsed his curiosity.

The word that Binaggio and Gargotta had met underworld deaths brought officers racing to the clubrooms where once the late Cas Welch held sway.

Kansas City has had two dozen unsolved murders in the last three or four years. The latest murder to command national attention here was the killing March 24, 1949, of Wolfe C. Rimann, country club manager who was stepping into a major liquor distributorship.

Binaggio was questioned in connection with that case. He revealed that Rimann only three weeks before had been in to join his club, an indication that Rimann knew where the political power was in Kansas City. But Binaggio said he did not know Rimann and that case today is merely another unsolved one in police files.

Binaggio's death reminded veteran officers of the manner in which his predecessor in the north end, Johnny Lazia, met his end 16 years ago.

Lazia was machine-gunned as he stepped from a car outside a fashionable Armour boulevard apartment house. Lazia lived several hours. Later Hoodlum Jack Gregory disappeared and rumor had it that Lazia's men dealt him gangland death in revenge for the Lazia killing.

Directly above Binaggio's body was a picture of President Truman in a gold-plated frame. It was a 2½-by-4-foot likeness of the President for whom the street outside the club only last year was renamed.

Along the side of the room were other large protographs of the President and Gov. Forrest Smith.

"It's a double murder," Police Lt. Nesbit said. "There's hardly any question of that."

No guns were found inside.

TAKEN TO REFORMATORY

LISBON, April 6—Sheriff Howard Clark left today to take Clarence Gotschell, Jr. of East Liverpool to the Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield. He will begin serving a one to 20-year sentence for auto theft.

McCarthy's Resignation Would Be Service To U.S., Owen Lattimore Claims

Denies He Is, Or Ever Was, A Communist

Far East Expert Hits Senator In Lengthy Testimony

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP) —Owen Lattimore, accused by Senator McCarthy of being Russia's top spy in the United States, swore today the charges are "base and contemptible lies."

He said McCarthy has "flagrantly violated" his responsibility as a Senator and has made unauthorized use of secret government documents.

Lattimore, an authority on Far Eastern affairs, took note of McCarthy's contention that he can prove Lattimore is or was a Communist and declared:

"I was not and have not been a Communist; and I am not a Communist now."

Prepared Statement

Lattimore made his denial in testimony prepared for a Senate foreign affairs subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges that Communists and Red sympathizers have infested the State Department.

Hitting back hard in a 10,000-word statement, Lattimore said McCarthy has violated his responsibility "by making the government of the United States an object of suspicion in the eyes of the anti-Communist world, and undoubtedly the laughing stock of the Communist governments."

Lattimore also declared McCarthy has impaired the effectiveness of this government "in its relations with its friends and allies."

He accused the Wisconsin Senator of "instituting a reign of terror among officials and employes in the United States government, none of whom can be sure of safety from attack by the machine gun or irresponsible publicity in Joseph McCarthy's hands."

Lattimore is director of a School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University. He flew back to this country from a United Nations mission in Afghanistan after McCarthy made his accusations.

Cites Disclosures

Lattimore told the inquiry committee McCarthy has:

1. "Without authorization used secret documents obtained from official government files."

2. "Villified citizens of the United States and accused them of high crime, without giving them an opportunity to defend themselves."

3. "Refused to submit alleged documentary evidence to a duly constituted committee of the Senate."

4. Invited disrespect to himself and his high office by refusing to live up to his word."

As for the McCarthy charges against him, Lattimore said that in effect they amount to an accusation of disloyalty and treason. Then he added:

"McCarthy's charges are untrue. As soon as I heard of the substance of the charges I denounced them for what they were: Base and contemptible lies."

In saying that McCarthy had failed to live up to his word, Lattimore noted the Senator had promised the Senate that any charges he made under "the cloak of immunity" he would repeat off the floor so, as Lattimore put it, "their falseness could

City To Pause Three Hours For Good Friday Service

SOME of Salem's well known singers will have part in the Good Friday service from 12 noon through 3 p. m. Friday in the Presbyterian Church.

Most stores will be closed during the hours of the service, the Chamber of Commerce announces.

Mrs. Oliver A. Davis and Mrs. Fred Sweitzer, Jr., soloists, will sing "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" and "O Love Divine What Hast Thou Done?", respectively. A Salem High School group will contribute two numbers, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" and Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee."

Mrs. Ralph Martin, Miss Martha Hollinger, John Paul Olloman and John Vance, a quartet from the Presbyterian Church, will sing "No Shadows Yonder" from The Holy City (Gaul). The song, "God So Loved The World" will be sung as a duet by Nancy Stockton and Janet Lehman.

The Girls Chorus from the Emmanuel Lutheran Church will sing "Panis Angelicus," while Mrs. Robert Hammell will offer an organ solo, "Ave Maria." Accompanists will be Mrs. Ruth Berry, Miss Anna Cook, Ben Bailey, Homer S. Taylor, Miss Kathryn Minth, Mrs. W. J. Seeman and Mrs. Hammell.

The general devotional theme will be "Words Addressed To The Cross."

Speakers scheduled include: Rev. Robert Mosher, pastor of the Damascus Friends Church; Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the First Friends Church; Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the Methodist Church; Rev. R. J. Hunter, pastor of the First Baptist Church; Rev. Harold L. Ogden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church; Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church and Rev. John Bauman, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

This service is sponsored by the Salem Ministerial Association. Merchants of the city are cooperating in that the stores will be closed for one hour, from 1 until 2 p. m. to give employes an opportunity to attend.

Good Friday in Holy Week marks the arrest, trial, crucifixion and burial of Jesus Christ, who gave Himself as ransom to redeem the world.

Because Christ by his death obtained for humanity the highest good, this day is recognized as Good Friday, according to one historian.

It is said that in the early life of the ancient church the day was observed as a strict fast in preparation for Easter and was called the "festival of the crucifixion."

Greek and Latin churches observe Good Friday with severe solemnity. Altar lights are ex-

Nothing Like It! Fire Brought To Firemen

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 6—(AP)—The telephone rang last night in the volunteer fire department headquarters at nearby West Mead Township.

"Get out in the road quick" said an excited feminine voice. "There's a fire coming your way."

The firemen followed instructions and sure enough in a few minutes a blazing truck came roaring down the highway.

The firemen stopped the truck—owned by the Burdette Oxygen Co. of Cleveland—and extinguished a fire in the truck brakes.

The driver had been unaware of the fire.

Possible Union Merger Nears

Green, Murray Talking Of Unity

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP); A possible merger of the AFL and CIO has suddenly become a serious topic of conversation in labor circles.

The reason: AFL President William Green's observation that the chances for such a move are "better today than they have been in the past six years."

Green was commenting on a proposal put forward by Philip Murray, president of the CIO.

Murray invited the AFL, John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, the International Association of Machinists, and the Railroad Brotherhoods to join in a grand program of cooperation on legislation, politics, and economic problems.

Once that is done, Murray said, the groups could work toward unification into a single organization of some 16,000,000 members. The AFL claims 8,000,000 on its rolls, the CIO 6,000,000, and the other organizations about 2,000,000 together.

Green and Murray have split in the past over how unification should be accomplished, and the[illegible] differences still seemed to exist.

The AFL chief favors immediate consolidation—as contrasted with the step-by-step procedure suggested by Murray. Green made clear in an interview in New Orleans that he hasn't changed his mind.

"The interests of labor could best be served by the establishment of one strong, united organization," he said. "Anything less would be temporary."

But the 76-year-old labor leader said he will be ready to meet with Murray upon his return to Washington. Green was in Louisiana to attend a meeting of the State Federation of Labor.

Mercy Killer Doesn't Recall Shooting

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 6—(AP)—The commonwealth will attempt today to break down Harold Mohr's testimony that he does not remember shooting to death his blind, cancer-stricken brother.

Mohr will be cross-examined when his trial is resumed in Lehigh county court. District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch said he planned to question the defendant at length.

The 36-year-old tannery worker is being tried on charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter in the March 8 mercy slaying of his brother, Walter, 55, in their home at nearby Coplay.

Appearing as the first defense witness yesterday, Harold—who pleaded innocent to the charges—testified that when Walter insisted on having a cup of coffee immediately, "I got cold all over—my mind went blank."

He said he remembered only "the hearing of a gun" and the next thing he knew he was in Lehigh county's prison the following morning. He told the jury of eight men and four women that his mind "cleared some" but wasn't completely clear until Saturday, March 11, three days after the shooting.

Authority Says Russia Gave Mao 500 Planes

HONG KONG, April 6—(INS)—A source close to Communist aviation circles reported today that Russia has given the Chinese Communists 500 planes.

The informant said the planes are scattered throughout northern China.

The informant claimed that despite Nationalist charges to the contrary, Russian airmen are not flying Chinese Communist planes against the Nationalists.

Grand Jury Returns Eight Indictments

LISBON, April 6—The Columbiana County grand jury made a partial report at 11:55 a. m. today, returning eight indictments in 11 cases, after examining 33 witnesses.

The jury will recess until Monday, when it will continue its secret investigations.

The jury ignored one case and continued another. Of eight indictments, four will remain secret at this time, it was announced. The four public indictments are:

Ray Sprouse of Toronto for auto theft.

Herbert Fitch and Lewis Newsom of Wellsville for burglary and larceny.

Fred H. Cornell of East Liverpool for burglary.

John T. Lewis of Sebring for burglary.

Good News For Mom, Solution Cuts Washing

WASHINGTON, April 6 — (INS)—There'll be less work for mother when she does the family wash.

The Agriculture Department has dicovered a new treatment for cotton clothes which will keep them cleaner longer, thus allowing for fewer cotton clothes washdays and less soap.

All mother need do is rinse the clothes with a celluloid-like compound known as carboxymethyl cellulose and presto, they will stay cleaner longer.

One thing before you dash to the grocery—it's not on the market yet.

Three Motorists Fined For Traffic Violations

Arrested for passing over the yellow line on the Millville hill yesterday, James McCoy, 36, Coshocton truck driver, was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Erwood Calvin of Columbiana.

State patrolmen also arrested two truck drivers Wednesday for overloading. Richard Weideman, 28, of Ravenna, was fined $25 and cost[illegible] by Justice of the Peace Clara Gardner in Edinburg and Leroy Creps, 45, of Youngstown was fined $58 and costs by Miss Gardner on a similar charge.

Ghost City Amidst Plenty

2,500 Mill Workers Idle In Preston, Pa.; Hope Is Slim

PITTSBURGH, April 6—(AP) —A drab village of 2,500 mill workers and their families huddles silent and deathlike today amid the bustle of this busy industrial region.

Incongruous as it seems, a ghost town may soon lie virtually in the shadows of Pittsburgh's skyscrapers.

More than nine-tenths of the town's men have been out of work since last summer when the big plant which fostered the village shut down.

There is no sign that it will reopen soon.

And where else can men over 40 get a job today?

A few years ago the town of Preston—with its three neat rows of identical frame houses—thrived contentedly in a murky site on the Ohio River mud flats five miles out of Pittsburgh.

There was plenty of work — with a chance to learn a good trade — at the Pressed Steel Car Co.'s big plant adjoining the village.

The firm rated as the nation's third producer of railroad freight cars and everyone prospered. Diamond Jim Brady, oldtimers boast, made most of his fortune as a salesman for the company.

During the war the number of employes at the plant soared past 4,000.

Most of the mill hands were immigrants from Eastern Europe or Italy who learned their trade well.

After the war, the company reduced its rolls to 3,000. But those who lost their jobs were, for the most part, outsiders. The future still looked rosy for Preston.

But layoffs continued. The firm said orders had dropped. Finally, last summer, Pressed Steel Car shut down the sprawling works.

There have been a few odd jobs for the idle workers since then. But for the most part they have subsisted on state unemployment compensation.

Except for a few, jobless pay to Preston residents expired last week.

Some of the machinery was dismantled and shipped away. The company said it was obsolete.

Said John I. Snyder, Pressed

Census Work Goes Smoothly

Public Willing To Answer Questions

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP) —Willing public cooperation in answering personal income questions for census purposes was reported by the Census Bureau today.

Officials said the first four days of data gathering had produced no reports from field officers of "trouble" on that score, and information reaching here was that all is "going well."

However, officials here said there may have been refusals not yet reported to Washington and, in fact, it would be logical to expect some "as a matter of human nature."

The bureau is firm in the position that the income questions are authorized by law, but officials say it tries to "exhaust every avenue of persuasion" to get voluntary answers before initiating prosecution.

The income questions are asked every fifth person aged 14 or older. Those asked may, if they prefer, ask the census taker for a blank form and mail their answers to the bureau here.

The law imposes penalties up to 60 days in jail and a $100 fine for "wilful refusal" to answer any official census question, and the Census Bureau turns over to U. S. district attorneys cases that can't be handled otherwise.

The usual practice when answers are refused to a Census enumerator, however, is to send an enumeration "crew leader" to explain and ask again for answers. After that, a "supervisor" is sent, and officials say answers practically always are given by this point

Income questions were first asked in 1940—of every person aged 14 or older—and the Census Bureau says the result was:

Dulles To Aid Dean Acheson

GOP Expert To Take Top Advisory Job

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP) —The State Department said today John Foster Dulles, New York lawyer and foreign policy expert, had agreed to serve as consultant to Secretary of State Acheson.

A formal announcement said the Republican leader was asked to take the position by both President Truman and Acheson.

Only last night, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross denied reports Mr. Truman proposed to name Dulles to a top policy post with the rank of ambassador at large.

The State Department today said Dulles "will advise Secretary Acheson on broad problems in the field of foreign affairs and on specific lines of action which this government should follow." It added:

"His work will not be confined to any specific area of the world. His broad background and wealth of experience qualify him for consideration of problems in Europe, the Far East and other areas of the world, as well as problems affecting the work of the United Nations.

"Mr. Dulles, whose cooperation has been extremely valuable to the Department in the past, will assume his duties in about two weeks, after completing a brief vacation."

It was learned today that the Dulles appointment was worked out by Acheson and Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) after Mr. Truman had authorized Acheson about 10 days ago to take such action in an effort to restore real bi-partisanship in foreign affairs.

The President, Acheson and Vandenberg finally agreed on Dulles as the best man for the job within the past day or so.

Today's announcement made clear that although he will have top rank under Acheson and Undersecretary of State James Webb he has not been given the formal title of ambassador at large. Nonetheless, it appeared that he will rank along with Ambassador Philip Jessup as one of the mainstays of Acheson in working out major foreign policy problems.

Too Hot To Handle

Ingrid's 'Oscar' Unpresented; Stuck In State Department

WASHINGTON, April 6 — (UP)—The State Department got involved with Ingrid Bergman today—and fled.

A movie magazine in Spain started it by awarding Miss Bergman and Ray Milland Oscars for being the best actress and actor of the year.

The magazine shipped the Oscars to the State Department and asked, please, would Secretary of State Dean Acheson and his boys see that they got delivered.

The magazine also thought it would be nice if it could have a picture of the presentation ceremony.

State Department officials gulped. The vision of Acheson—or any other diplomat—presenting the Oscar to Miss Bergman caused State Department jitters that Sen. Joseph McCarthy would envy.

It was small comfort that Miss Bergman, the Swede with an international reputation, was in Italy with her husband-to-be, Roberto Rosellini. The magazine wanted action.

One department official had an inspiration:

Why not hand the problem to the Motion Picture Association of America—the Eric Johnston office, charged with enforcing high moral standards in American movies?.

"We'll let them handle it," the official told a reporter.

The reporter questioned Johnston's office and a spokesman there said:

"Oh, no, this is a State Department baby."

State Department officials huddled, then came up with this announcement:

"The Johnston offices says we can send the Oscars to the actors' studios. That's what we will do."

Which studios?

"Why," one official said, "Milland works for Paramount and Miss Bergman works for RKO."

But RKO in Hollywood said Miss Bergman does not, either, work for them—not any more.

Miss Bergman's Oscar still sits at the State Department, as hot as Stromboli.

Love At 79

Shipboard Romance Results In Marriage

CLEVELAND, April 6—(AP)—A shipboard romance of last summer will lead to the marriage Monday of Arthur G. McKee, 79, millionaire Cleveland industrialist, and Mrs. Bennetta Health Alexander, Charlotte, N. C., socialite.

McKee, chairman of the advisory committee of an iron and steel mill construction company which bears his name, and Mrs. Alexander became friends aboard the Queen Elizabeth during an Atlantic crossing last summer.

They will be married in Brick Presbyterian Church, New York City, at 4 p. m. Monday by Dr. Paul A. Wolfe. After a flight to Bermuda, they will live in Cleveland Heights.

Both McKee and his bride are grandparents. His first wife died two years ago, leaving two daughters. Mrs. Alexander, who was divorced from a Charlotte real estate dealer about 15 years ago, has a son, Heath, in University of North Carolina, and a daughter, Mrs. Slator Clay Blackiston, in Stuttgart, Germany, where her husband is a U. S. diplomatic attache.

In addition to being known as a builder of steel mills, including one for Russia in 1932 which was at that time the world's largest, McKee as a hobby is a horticulturist. His 80-acre McKee tropical gardens near Vero Beach, Fla., are visited by thousands every year.

Ohioan To Get His .84 Acre Of Land

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—It looks like Carmi A. Jones will get his .84 of an acre in Ross county, O., even though it takes an act of Congress.

An act to allow the Department of Agriculture to sign over the land was approved yesterday by the House agriculture committee. The land contains a well and pumping equipment, necessary for watering other farm land Jones got from the department.

In return, Jones is to give the government a small piece of land in Symmes Creek forest, Lawrence county, O.

Congress bought the small piece of land under an Act of Congress that made no provision for later disposition of the land. Therefore, another act was needed.

Youngstown Man Confesses Murder

YOUNGSTOWN, April 6—(AP)—Police questioned Aaron Whitman, 20, today to learn a motive for the fatal shooting of Whitman's 16-year-old wife, Marie.

Detective Sgt. Clarence Brown said Whitman walked into Central Police Station last night with a friend and said he had killed his wife in their home after an argument. She was found dead with a .38 caliber revolver bullet wound in her chest.

The shooting took place a short time after the couple returned from South Side Hospital where their two-months-old child is ill with influenza.

Filing of charges against Whitman was delayed pending further questioning.

Double Trouble

21-Month-Old Twins Drop Out Window

STEUBENVILLE, April 6—(AP)—Frank Jelski has the lower half of the windows in his twin daughters' bedroom nailed down today—and with a good reason.

Yesterday the 21-month-old girls—Jennifer and Jeannette—dropped 15 feet to the ground from one of the second-story windows. Although they are little the worse for it, their parents don't want that to happen again.

Previously the twins tore things up so much in their room that Papa Jelski had to bolt their beds to the floor and remove all the other furniture.

Mrs. Jelski said she went to wake the twins up yesterday and found their room door closed. She is sure they couldn't have opened it. But they did raise a window she left open half an inch.

Her daughters were gone, but on the windowsill were hand prints where the two had hung before dropping to the soggy ground below. The ground was marked where they landed.

Mrs. Jelski found the twins in the yard. Jeannette was on a swing and Jennifer grimaced over a red pepper which had blown loose frob where it hung on the back porch.

RAILROAD TIED UP

ADA, April 6—(AP)—Traffic on the Pennsylvania Railroad's main line near here was partly restored late last night after a derailment. One of the latest farm devices is a crop dryer. Using combined far, motor, control, and a heat source, such as an oil burner, it can dry ear corn, small grains, peanuts, cotton seed, hay, and other forages.

Lake Shippers Seeking Aid

Rep. Weichel Flays 'Give-away Program'

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—Rep. Weichel (R-Ohio) was sharply critical yesterday of statements made by two witnesses in favor of legislation to aid shipping on the Great Lakes.

Weichel contended the proposal to aid restoration of passenger and package freight service on the lakes amounted to a government "give-away program."

A member of the House merchant marine subcommittee which is holding a hearing on the plan, Weichel took issue with Miles McKee of Detroit, representing the Wisconsin and Michigan Steamship Co., Milwaukee, and Robert Smith, traffic commissioner of the Duluth, Minn., Chamber of Commerce.

The Ohio congressman asked McKee: "Why don't you build your own ships?"

"Because the cost of new construction is so high today that the rates that would have to be charged to pay for them would be prohibitive," McKee answered.

"You just want to get something free from somebody," Weichel declared.

Weichel asked Smith why the bankers don't lend money to build new ships "if the business is so profitable."

Smith said bankers would loan money "if the ships can be bought at the proper price."

"You mean on a gift basis," Weichel interrupted.

"I don't agree that this is a gift basis," Smith replied.

Weichel said the Great Lakes Transit Co. sold about 10 ships to the government at the start of World War II for $1,900,000, bought them back after the war for $488,060, and then sold them to foreign buyers for $1,375,000.

Under the proposed legislation, Great Lakes operators could buy up to 10 surplus government-owned ocean vessels at a government-fixed floor price, but they could use up to 90 per cent of the price in converting the ships for use on the Great Lakes.

Rhodes Says Lausche Avoids Responsibility

COLUMBUS, April 6—(AP)—Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus officially launched his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor last night.

He was introduced at a meeting at the Southern Hotel by Atty. Paul M. Herbert, four times lieutenant governor of Ohio. Rhodes managed Herbert's campaign in 1938.

Rhodes called upon Gov. Frank J. Lausche to "give a clear account of his stewardship of the State of Ohio," including:

"An account in which he accepts full responsibility for everything that pertains to his administration."

Mayor Rhodes said the governor "disclaims the corruptions under his stewardship as the handiwork of his betrayers." he added:

"A responsible governor would be more discerning of the frailties of the persons he gathers about him to conduct the state's business.

"Such discernment is implicit in the trust placed in the governor by the people of Ohio. I accuse the governor of absolute, habitual hypocrisy in trying piously to sidestep the responsibility of these constant betrayals."

Cattle Test In County Completed

The ring test of milk for brucellosis is being completed in Columbiana County this week, according to Dr. R. C. Brager, Veterinarian in charge of brucellosis control work in the county.

Samples were collected from farm-to-farm by local persons in each township and were tested at the laboratory at Lisbon. Reports are being mailed to herd owners giving results of the test.

Last fall the ring test was applied in the county by collecting milk samples at the milk plants. Columbiana County was the first county in the state to which the ring test was applied on a county basis and it is the first county in which the second application has been made. It is used to help locate infected herds to which the blood test can then be applied to find individual reactors.

The area brucellosis test in the county is now practically completed with the exception of a few scattered herds in the county according to Dr. R. C. Brager. Herd owners whose herds have not yet been tested are being urged to contact their local veterinarians immediately in order that the test can be completed before the cattle go out on pasture.

The tuberculin test is also due in Columbiana County this year. It is expected that three or four townships will be tested by local veterinarians yet this spring. Most of the remaining townships will be tested next fall. The tuberculin test is applied every three years to maintain the county as an accredited tuberculosis free area.

He denied assaulting her.

A Better Mousetrap

WITH THE conviction of Harry Bridges on a charge of perjury for swearing he wasn't a Communist when he applied for citizenship papers, it becomes clear that the Department of Justice has developed a better legal mousetrap.

A charge of perjury used against persons who are fouled up in the international conspiracy of the Communist party is as lethal as the charges of income tax evasion which used to be brought against racketeers in the Capone era. And it is lethal for the same reason: It gets at the root of the wrong-doing.

The Communist conspiracy is built on an intricate fabrication of lies. It couldn't survive 15 minutes in the United States without the falsehoods which conceal its true character from the eyes of the gullible. Its members are wholly dependent on untruths and half-truths. Therefore, they can be caught sooner or later in a perjury trap, just as surely as a racketeer can be caught sooner or later for dishonest handling of money.

It has taken the government more than four months to spring its trap on Bridges. Caught with him are two other officers of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Bridges himself has been under fire for alleged membership in the Communist party since the Thirties. The government tried to deport him, without success. He countered that move by applying for citizenship—but that was his big mistake. He swore that he wasn't a member of the Communist party. Therefore, all the government had to do was prove to the satisfaction of a jury that he perjured himself. That has been done. The Justice Department's better mousetrap has snapped shut again.

Russian War Planes

HERE IS ONE of those enigmas wrapped inside an enigma—the kind once referred to by Winston Churchill in speaking about the Soviet Union. It concerned the complaint by Chinese Nationalists that two of their fighting planes were shot down on April 2 by war planes of Russian design and presumably flown by Russian pilots. However, the planes bore Chinese Communist insignia.

The planes that were shot down bore the insignia of Chinese Nationalists. But any further resemblance to homegrown products would be hard to find. They were planes made in the United States and "sold" to Chinese Nationalists under the flimsy pretext of lend-lease. Their pilots, whether Chinese or not, were trained by American instructors.

The enigma is why it's any different when Chinese Nationalists fight Chinese Communists with American weapons. Since enigmas can't be explained — being beyond explanation no one will ever know.

No More Buckeyes

IT'S REASSURING to hear so much straight talk from Columbus about taxes. C. Emory Glander, Ohio's tax commissioner, has followed up his recent remarks about local responsibility for local spending needs with a blunt warning that the state revenue well has been pumped dry.

He warns that the state treasury will need a lot of luck to stay in the black. The surplus pumped into it by the war boom has been used up. It has apportioned all the money it can expect to take in—and perhaps a little more.

"We have to choose between curtailment of state expenditures on the one hand and increased state taxes on the other," Commissioner Glander told an audience in Columbus this week.

This amounts chiefly to a warning that the General Assembly has come to the end of the trail in its distribution of state funds. From now on there will be no more problems of whether to bestow money on this or that worthy cause. The only problem will be where to get the wherewith-all already bestowed. No more handouts, no additional grants and no new subsidies will be possible without higher taxes. And higher taxes on a statewide basis are not going to be tolerated in Ohio; tax-spenders can bet on that.

Where local government must have more money, Commissioner Glander points out, additional income will have to be a local responsibility. "If we are to have increased local spending," he explains, "we must choose either increased state taxes on all the people, or increased local taxes by those who want to spend the money. I see no other choice. The state's revenue system has a lack of elasticity."

Ohio is fresh out of buckeyes.

Perjury Is Enough

IT NOW is being mentioned as a point of special significance that Harry Bridges and other officers of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union had signed non-Communist affidavits under the Taft-Hartley Act. What happens in view of the fact they have been convicted of perjury and conspiracy for testifying falsely that Bridges was not and never had been a member of the Communist party when he applied for citizenship in 1945 is a matter of lively interest.

Unless there is a change of heart in government circles, nothing will happen. Nothing has been done about non-Communist affidavits filed unde the Taft-Hartley Act. Though it's a good guess that Bridges and his associates weren't the only ones who filed them with their fingers crossed. Even if the Department of Justice had moved promptly to put the finger on all questionable affidavits, it would take years to catch up to every labor leader suspected of perjury in swearing that he was not and never had been a member of the Communist party.

But it would be worth the chase. Communist infiltration into U.S. unions has given unionism its blackest eye. Until all unions can come before the public with clean hands, the entire union movement will be under a heavy handicap. The Taft-Hartley Act has provided a method for cleaning house. Perjury is a crime in itself; there is no need to get into the complex question of the

Some Old Pals Drop In

Data On Flying Saucers Filed Away

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON . WHILE the Defense Department officially says there are no "flying saucers," private aeronautical engineers say "yes," and so does Commander Robert McLaughlin, on active duty in the Navy, who saw one in Mexico some months ago, where it was tracked by observers with instruments. He wrote a technical description of it in the March issue of the magazine "True."

David Lawrence

The strange thing about the official denial from the Defense Department is that it says the reports of unidentified flying objects are the result either of "hoaxes" or "hysteria" or "a misinterpretation of various conventional objects."

But nobody on the outside has been allowed to check up on those reports and analyze them from a technical point of view. It would seem that, if they are of no consequence any more, the Air Force ought to permit their publication in order that competent technicians can form their own conclusions.

THE MAGAZINE "U. S. News & World Report" this week published an analysis of all available reports and also an analysis from aeronautical engineers who have studied the material on flying saucers. One of the members of the staff of the magazine, who directed the collation of the data, writes this memorandum:

"The Air Force has received statements from hundreds of people in more than 300 cases in which flying saucers were believed to have been seen. At least a dozen of these cases involved thoroughly competent witnesses who had a clear view of the saucer aircraft. They are Air Force fliers who chased saucers, commercial pilots who had a good look at the circular aircraft, high-ranking Army officers who saw one over Fort Knox, air technicians at Wright Field, balloon experts who tracked one near White Sands, New Mexico. Their detailed reports have never been released by the Air Force's 'project saucer.'

"If the interviews with competent observers published in reputable newspapers in various parts of the country are correct, the Air Force's explanation is clearly wrong. The saucers observed traveled several hundred miles an hour and often against the wind, eliminating the possibility of weather balloons. They maneuvered and even rose vertically, eliminating meteors. They were often seen by dozens or even hundreds of people at once, so that hysteria is not a likely answer. Hoaxes are not likely to be objects more than 100 feet in diameter. Instead, the descriptions have been clear, with all of the most competent observers agreeing on the details of the saucers.

"EVIDENCE clearly points to a project within the United States. It is also obviously an expensive one, in which millions probably have been sunk in research. That indicates a government project, one done with great secrecy. The only big government spending now being done without public accounting is in the Atomic Energy Commission and the armed forces guided-missile projects. Eliminating the atom, the biggest missile spending is being done by the Navy. Not all of it is on projects by government engineers—some is contracted out to private concerns. In any event, only a handful of men would know about any such project, no more than knew of the Manhattan district. And certainly denials are to be expected all up and down the line.

"Measurements near the White Sands Proving Grounds, N. M., of the saucer tracked there were reported by Cmdr. Robert McLaughlin, on active duty with the Navy, writing in 'True' magazine."

Clearly something is lacking to explain what the competent Air Force fliers wrote in reporting their observations of the flying saucers — which reports are reposing in official files and have never been made public.

Feathered Fools

By TRUMAN TWILL

IT'S no secret that this department pokes fun occasionally at bird lovers and their harmless twittering. What these well-meaning but misled people can't understand is that there are some things about their feathered friends which aren't admirable, as when robins build nests over downspouts and hawks show lack of judgment.

Until we moved out to the country hawks never had been a problem. As far as that's concerned, there probably are no hawks that hover over towns for the good reason that there would be too many distractions. Because even a hawk in the country can be fooled with ridiculous ease.

For those who don't know enough about birds to understand their annoying habits, it had better be explained that hawks are hunters, always on the lookout for a quick meal. They do their looking out by circling high overhead until they spot something that can be picked up in a power dive. Naturally, they need sharp eyes for this work.

But not all hawks have sharp eyes. There apparently is at least one hawk in circulation that needs glasses, because he kept circling about last Sunday over the spot where this correspondent was shoveling dirt into a hole. It was warm in the sun and the shoveling job had produced sufficient perspiration to justify the removal of the cap—the one that says: Truman Twill, Weekend Farmer.

So the hawk kept circling about. Examination of the locality revealed nothing that could interest a bird of prey—no chickens, no rabbits, no rats, mice or anything else that possibly could interest an intelligent hawk. Nevertheless, the hawk was undoubtedly showing a great deal of interest in something. Its identity was finally revealed accidentally.

As the wind changed, it became too cool for comfort working bareheaded and the cap was put back on the skin we love to touch and hate to be kidded about. No sooner was it in place than the hawk quit wheeling in lazy circles overhead and made a beeline for the nearest supermarket, or wherever hawks go to look for a square meal. And suddenly it was clear that the only thing the foolish bird could have been interested in was, well, the most conspicuous thing on the landscape with the sun shining on it, and it was the merest good luck that the feathered fool hadn't swooped down and made a lasting impression.

Which is one more reason why we can take birds or let them alone, along with such annoying antics as chickadees leering at early-morning risers, through windows, cardinals whistling like poolroom wolves and lazy, fat robins that have to be kicked out of the way so an honest householder can mow the grass.

Another bird season is at hand. The prospect is fairly horrible. It's going to be uncomfortable wearing a hat all summer just to make sure no hawk makes a feathered fool of himself.

Arms Protest

By PETER EDSON

Shipments May Bring European Dock War

WASHINGTON ANTI-COMMUNIST labor war on the waterfronts of Europe, to insure unloading of North Atlantic Pact military aid supplies from America, has been pledged in Washington by officials of the new International Confederation of Free Trade Unions—ICFTU.

These assurances are given by J. H. Oldenbroeck of The Netherlands, secretary general of ICFTU, and Omer Bercu of Belgium, secretary of the European International Transport Workers Federation. The two European labor leaders met in Washington last week with representatives of the American Federation of Labor, Congress of Industrial Organizations, United Mine Workers and the Railroad Brotherhoods, to plan anti-Communist strategy..

First shipment of U. S. Army supplies for Europe was loaded at New York Port of Embarkation March 31. It is bound for Italy, but port of destination has not been announced. First Naval supplies left Norfolk, Va., aboard the French aircraft carrier Dixmude. First Air Force aid for Europe was the more recent flight of B-29's to England.

Major objective of the Communist-dominated labor unions in western Europe today is to prevent the unloading of these arms from the United States. The counter-attack to this propaganda has already begun, says Mr. Oldenbroeck..

STATEMENTS in favor of the arms aid program have been issued to dock workers in the principal European ports. Efforts have been made to have the waterfront unions vote on this question. Heads of the Communist-dominated unions have tried to block these referenda.

They have thus far been able to block balloting because they control the European equivalents to the American "hiring halls," which supply waterfront labor in both France and Italy. Anti-Communists are now trying to force the election of new union officials to run the hiring halls, so that anti-Communist workers will be assigned to handle military cargo, and prevent sabotage.

Omer Bercu of the International Transport Workers says this will be an all-out fight in the European ports. An International Vigilance Committee of six longshoremen and seamen has been named to direct operations for all Europe. Regional committees have been set up for Atlantic, Baltic and Mediterranean ports. Local committees are in every port.

"We will use the same tactics the Communists use," says Bercu. "We will not allow our people to be beaten. We intend to fight back. People along the waterfronts have been misled. We have already been successful in Cherbourg and Marseilles."

The situation in Italy is peculiar, says Mr. Bercu. Arms shipments have been scheduled to go iinto Genoa, which is Communist controlled. One of Bercu's purposes in visiting Washington is to persuade U. S. officials to ship through Naples, even though cargo there would have to be unloaded on lighters, instead of at dockside..

In Naples, Bercu declares, the Communist labor leader Di Stefano—who was a fascist under Mussolini—tried to get longshoremen to adopt a resolution against unloading arms. The resolution was thrown out and so was Di-Stefano..

THE Communist hold over the port of Genoa is maintained through four big co-operatives which enable laboring people to buy necessities of life at low prices. "It would take a hero," says Bercu, to go into Genoa at this time to organize anti-Communist unions. He could not live."

Communists have been trying to gain control of the port in Antwerp ever since Belgium was liberated from the Germans, Mr. Bercu declares. In this effort they have used every trick they could muster. They have pulled strikes against Marshall Plan cargo in Bordeaux, claiming it was military aid, forcing the ship to unload at Antwerp.

They have had fellow-travelers in Denmark declare that arms shipments would not be unloaded at Copenhagen. They have quoted Harry Bridges, U. S. Longshoremen's' leader and president of the maritime branch of World Federation of Trade Unions, against the handling of Marshall Plan supplies. All such statements have been used to propagandise European workers.

Anti-Communist forces are using the same kind of arguments in reverse. They are quoting the recent declarations of seven U. S. maritime unions, in support of arms aid to Europe, to show the working people of Europe that American labor unions are with them.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

The Treatment of Hemmorhoids

THERE is much concern about whether piles, or hemorrhoids, lead to cancer. Fortunately, though hemorrhoids cause a lot of discomfort, they do not increase the chances of developing cancer.

Hemorrhoids, or piles, are actually enlarged veins which develop at or near the outlet of the rectum. They tend to occur in clusters like grapes. At first the enlargements appear and disappear. They may come on gradually or suddenly. A special strain, such as lifting, or a bad attack of constipation will often bring them rapidly.

Blockage of the flow of blood through the hemorrhoidal veins favors the development of piles. Many factors can contribute: Childbirth, long-continued severe coughing, the muscular strain of heavy lifting or athletics, and constipation, are commonly mentioned.

As a rule, the first symptom consists of the presence of blood on the outside of the stool without pain. Other common early signs are itching or slight pain, especially on straining. Bleeding is usually slight at first but can get so bad that it can cause anemia. Ulcers or cracks in the skin or mucous membrane around the rectum often develop in long-continued cases. Such complications are frequently painful.

At times clots can form inside the enlarged veins. These are likely to arise suddenly with severe pain. They are usually absorbed in a week or so though the clot can be shelled out by surgery.

The best treatment for hemorrhoids in most cases is to cut them out. This involves an operation which can be performed with either local or general anesthesia. There has been much improvement in the methods of treatment and after-care in recent years so that as a rule convalescence is more rapid and pain less severe following this operation than was formerly the case.

In some cases the enlarged veins, if they are internal, can be treated by injection. In most severe cases, however, removal by operation is the method of choice. Unfortunately, once piles have developed and been present for some time, there is no other thoroughly satisfactory treatment except the two mentioned.

There is some danger that piles will come back after operation—that is new ones develop—unless the causes which originally produced them are also corrected.

Oh, To Be An Oyster!

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK OH, FOR THE life of an oyster! It sounds pretty good to a care-tried man, doesn't it—a serene career there on the quiet ocean floor, lulled by the waves, fretted by no mean ambitions, hurting nobody, and free of all troubles?

Hal Boyle

That's the kind of life the oyster would like to enjoy, too.

He just wants to be nature's pacifist, a real isolationist, a true self contained individualist.

The oyster does everything possible to avoid responsibility. He never has to go to a psychiatrist to find out why he hates his parents, because he never even knows who his parents were. And he doesn't want to.

At birth he is an invisible tadpole. He swims about for a few days, seeing about as much of the world as the crew of the average submarine on patrol. That gives him enough memories for one lifetime, and he settles down to the sea bottom and fastens himself to the shell of an ancestor, his only tie with the past.

HE IS NEITHER an employer nor a laborer. He owns nothing but a calcium hut, and he builds it alone out of himself and the sea.

He lives in a big bed with thousands of other oysters. He is the perfect neighbor. He doesn't eat crackers in bed, he doesn't gossip, criticize, brag, or argue about religion. If another oyster builds a house on his roof he doesn't even complain about his property rights.

The woes of matrimony?—not for him. He solves the problem of sex by being a lady oyster one year, a male the next. What difference does it make? The other oysters don't care.

He doesn't tear down his body with bad habits like staying up nights or hanging out at bars. He even drinks 45 to 50 gallons of water a day. Enough to satisfy any doctor.

All he wants to do is sit there and dream — and produce other little oysters. He sifts his food from the sea, and it brings him all he needs.

Wouldn't you think a simple fellow like that, warring on nobody, asking nothing of anybody, would live forever in happiness, safety, peace and good health?

Well, kiddies, he doesn't. The oyster may yearn to be his own world. But he is too good to last. The oyster becomes everybody else's world.

Safecrakers of the sea floor—little animal oyster drills—bore through his shell —to get at his flesh. Starfish ambush him. Mudworms waylay him. Even sponges tunnel into his bedroom. And as for health? Did you know that tiny sea parasites are always trying to swim through his doorway and give him kidney trouble? Yes, kidney trouble.

AND IF HE escapes all these neighborhood thugs, there is still his greatest enemy — the arch-landlord, man.. Man will guard him from other foes only to fatten the poor trusting bivalve for market in a world he never knew.

This fascinating picture of the oyster's dilemma was given me by Royal Toner, who owns about 700,000 bushels of oysters on a 6,000-acre sub-sea ranch off Long Island.

Toner has been interrupting oyster dreams for four decades. And he feels it hasn't only been profitable — it's been necessary. He says the oyster is too dangerous a fellow to let alone.

"They could cause more trouble than the atom bomb," he said. "'Each female oyster has about 25,000,000 eggs at spawning time. Statisticians figure that if all the progeny of two oysters lived and multiplied for only five generations they'd make a mass as big as the earth itself. And where would we be?"

But the real lesson of the oyster is: You have to face life—nobody can live safely alone in an ivory tower anywhere in a hungry world.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

THE only question they left out of the census was "when did you see your last flying saucer?"

Russia will claim they had 'em anyway. With cups.

One fellow claims he even knows the message stencilled on the flying saucer. It says "if you can read this you're too darn close . . . to knowing a top military secret."

This is one of the best secrets we ever had . . . it is so secret it must be in the loyalty files.

But as the admiral remarked when they told him he couldn't make any more speeches "I can go along with a gag."

The only way we'll ever get Harry to say we have 'em is to get Taft to deny they exist.

I'm sure they're American although there was one report of one that resembled a samovar with a loose spigot.

BIBLE QUOTATION

He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.—Job 33:28.

The earth's southernmost city is Punta Areas, at the extreme end of Patagonia, on the Straits of Magellan.. During the winter months, it has only two hours of daylight.

THE EASTER STORY — Jesus Is Mocked — Drawn by John J. Sunley

Pilate thereupon released Barabbas and scourged Jesus and delivered Him to be crucified. Taking water he washed his hands before the people, saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just man; look ye to it. (Matt. 27:24)

His soldiers stripped Jesus and put a scarlet cloak on Him. They crowned Him with thorns and for a sceptre put a reed in his hand. And bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying: Hail, king of the Jews. (Matt. 27:29)

Then they garbed Jesus in His own clothes and forced Him toward Calvary, carrying His cross. But its weight was too much. And going out, they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon: him they forced to take up his cross. (Matt. 27:32)

Presbyterian Groups Use Easter Theme

THE GARDEN of the Bibical Joseph and his wife is the locale of the tomb to which Jesus was brought from the cross and the scene of the story, "In the Garden," so well told Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Gertrude Stewart.

The Easter story, by Agnes Turnbull, was heard by 45 members and two guests of the Presbyterian January, March, May and November committees at the luncheon meeting in the church. The guests were Mrs. A. L. Ogden of St. Louis and Mrs. Florence Hall of Chicago, a cousin of Miss Anna Cook.

The springtime theme which made the tables attractive was the work of Miss Elma Auld, while Mrs. W. D. King and Mrs. James Campbell were in charge of the buffet luncheon arrangements. The hymn and Scripture service was led by Mrs. King.

The January committee, headed by Miss Auld and Mrs. M. A. Kelly, made plans to serve the Book Club dinner May 15 at their business session. They meet next May 3 at the home of Mrs. Roy Merrel, E. Second st. A sacrificial offering was taken by all the groups.

The March committee, Mrs. Clifford Todd and Mrs. C. W. Cozad, co-chairmen, reported the success of a recent benefit and planned to meet May 3 at the home of Mrs. Rachel Wonner on N. Ellsworth ave.

The May committee in charge of Mrs. King and Mrs. James Campbell will also meet May 3, as will the November committee headed by Mrs. Harry Sherwood and Mrs. Howard Milligan.

Architects Sue Lisbon Board For $2,500

LISBON, April 6 — The Lisbon Board of Education is defendant in a $2,500 damage action filed in common pleas court by a Youngstown firm of architects, who claim the school board refuses to pay any portion of the sum.

The action was brought by Myron M. Goodwin and P. Arthur D'Orazio, registered architects of Youngstown, for services rendered pursuant to a contract entered into March 1, 1947, for professional services in the rehabilitation of the Lincoln and McKinley grade school buildings, the high school building and designing the shower and locker rooms at the stadium.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The little wool dress that goes places this spring may travel with a matching coat or it may not need a companion at all. But whichever way it journeys, it will be distinguished by neat-as-a-pin tailoring and crisp-textured fabrics.

A blouse-topped dress joins up with a three-quarter length coat to make the ensemble at left, designed by Eisenberg. Navy wool for coat and skirt is given crispness by bold window-pane plaid silk in lining and blouse. Short sleeves turn up to show deep plaid cuffs.

The tailored shirtwaist dress at right is designed by Margi in men's wear flannel. Smoke pearl buttons stud the plunging neckline of the surplice bodice. The dropped shoulder line releases full dolman sleeves, caught at the wrists by snug-fitting cuffs.—KAY SHERWOOD, NEA Staff Writer.

Good Friday

tinguished, altar furniture is covered and the usual communion omitted. Bells in the church towers remain silent.

Observance of Holy Week and especially Good Friday is increasing among the non-ritualistic churches.

At least 10 states—Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Tennessee observe Good Friday as a holiday.

The day is called Holy Friday in the countries where the Roman language is spoken.

Today known as Maundy Thursday in Holy Week will be observed in several Salem churches tonight with the sacrament of Holy Communion. Events in the life of Christ on this day include the preparation of the Passover, celebration of the Passover, institution of the Lord's supper, His farewell discourse, His high priestly prayer and His agony in The Garden.

At one time it was the custom in England and other European countries for the sovereign to wash the feet of a certain number of poor persons on Maundy Thursday. Then he would send them away with presents of food, clothes and money. This ceremony was in commemoration of the act of Christ who washed his apostles feet on the occasion of the last supper.

Charles Ramsey Heads Columbiana Chest Drive

COLUMBIANA, April 6 — Attorney John L. Hutson has resigned the chairmanship of the community chest and is succeeded by Charles Ramsey. Other officers in the reorganization are: Vice chairman, Louis D. Bair; secretary Ernest Cope; treasurer, George Keller, re-elected.

Arthur Conrad was elected a director as a representative of labor, and Frederick Roth of the High School faculty replaces Superintendent H. F. Richmond as a representative of education.

The chest collected $4,870 last fall, 90 per cent of its goal, which is now being disbursed to beneficiaries on that basis. The community relief fund of $325 is being depleted by aid to several families.

WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

CLEVELAND, April 6—(AP)—Western Reserve University today announced awards of 13 full-tuition scholarships for the school year starting next September. Ohio recipients were Dolf M. Droge of Springfield, Wayne Fulton of Seville, John F. Roth of Akron, Kathryn E. Silon of Barton, Robert Tener of Cuyahoga Falls and Gordon J. Winters of Tiffin.

POLICE URGE TAX

AKRON, April 6—(AP)—Akron police want a 1 per cent city income tax to finance wage increases for themselves. The Fraternal Order of Police lodge last night asked city council's finance committee to recommend the new tax. Sergeant Howard F. Robison declared Akron police got between $60 and $70 per month less than officers in comparable Ohio cities.

Senate Okays DP Act 58-15

Bitter Struggle Ends; Bill Liberalized

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—Legislation to let additional thousands of European refugees come to this country to make their homes passed the Senate just before last midnight.

The bill, liberalizing the 1948 displaced persons law by raising the number that can be admitted to 359,000, caps a long and bitter struggle in the Senate. Republicans and Democrats in almost equal numbers joined to put it over, by a final vote of 58 to 15.

As passed, after a stormy session that lasted nearly 12 hours and set a new record on the number of roll call votes (20), it conforms in its essentials to a measure passed by the House last June.

The Senate bill eliminates provisions of the 1948 act which President Truman assailed in his election campaign as discriminatory against Catholics and Jews.

Differences still remain to be ironed out with the House, but Senator Kilgore (D-W Va) said he expected no difficulty in this.

On the final vote, 27 Democrats and 31 Republicans voted for passage. Opposed were eight Democrats and seven Republicans.

The bill would extend the present program for a year beyond June 30 and increase the number of refugees eligible for admission to this country from 205,000 to 359,000, including orphans and adopted children.

It also would wipe out requirements that 40 per cent of the DP's admitted be from the Baltic States and 30 per cent be farmers. It would advance the eligibility "cut-off" date from Dec. 22, 1945 to Jan. 1, 1949.

Together, these three changes erase the principal provisions that gave rise to the charges of religious and racial discrimination in the present law.

The cut-off date is the time by which refugees must have entered Germany, Austria or Italy to be eligible for consideration as displaced persons.

Ugo Carusi, chairman of the Displaced Persons Commission which administers the program told reporters that the bill is "fair and workable" and eliminates the major objections that were raised against the present law.

Columbiana Officials To Attend Meeting

COLUMBIANA, April 6—Mayor E. L. Calvin and perhaps two or three members of council will attend a meeting in the Lisbon High School building at 8 tonight to hear an explanation of the working of the county health authority and its reasons for asking a 55 per cent increase in contributions from municipal and township subdivisions.

Dr. Robert M. Dunlap, county health officer, was to have appeared before council here Tuesday evening, but questions have arisen so generally over the county that it was decided to have a meeting of representatives of all county subdivisions.

Columbiana has been paying about $1,800 a year toward this cause, and the additional asking would increase its payment to about $2,700. The payment is not mandatory, and Columbiana has been taking care of its own health and sanitary problems, having had no occasion to call on the county.

Council, at its meeting Tuesday evening, instructed the clerk to advertise for bids for a tractor, with sweeper and mower appliances. Bids will be received until noon, Saturday, April 29.

Ollie Harrold and Ray Spiker of the street committee reported after investigation of a drainage complaint on N. Pearl st. that the best solution they could see would be for owners of abutting propery to co-operate in opening and improving an alley on the east side of the street after which the street department would take care of the drainage.

Council accepted a proposal of A. L. Wells for the establishment of a public parking lot in the rear of his drug store on S. Main st., Mr. Wells to provide the slag and the street department to grade the area and haul the slag.

Essay, Poster Contests For Clean-up Drive

"Operation Spic" committees will make reports when the Junior Chamber of Commerce holds a special meeting at 8 tonight at the clubrooms.

Horace Schwartz, head of the "Salem Paints, Improves, Cleans" program said today the two pre-drive events are the Essay and Poster contests. All Perry township residents are eligible for the essay event in which they are invited to tell "What I Would Do To Improve Salem." They may write on any phase of the clean-up, fix-up, paint-up campaign.

Entries should be 500 words or less and sent to Box 145, Salem. An electric mixer and other prizes will go to winners. Deadline is April 25.

Schwartz said the Business and Professional Women's Club has completed arrangements to handle the poster contest entries. All Salem pupils in the seventh grades and higher may now submit 14 by 22 inch posters on any phase of the program.

The best poster in each grade will receive prizes and awards. Miss Gertrude Butera is B.P.W. club chairman of this event.

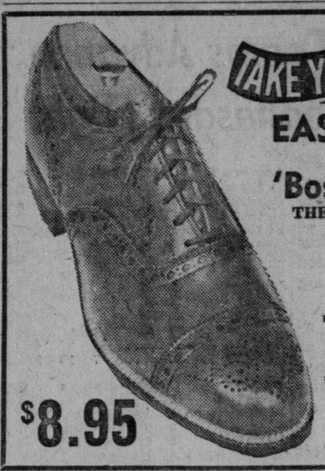

ACCIDENT VICTIMS DIE

CLEVELAND, April 6—(AP)—Two pedestrians injured by autos last week died yesterday, sending Cleveland's 1950 traffic toll to 25—one more than in the same period of last year. The victims were Nick Karlovich, 68, and Mrs. Mary Csup, 83.

EXAMINE MOTHER

AKRON, April 6—(AP)—Mrs. Angela Rose Du Fale, 19, who told police last week how she drowned her 11-day-old son in his bath, has been sent to Lima State Hospital for a 30-day examination. Judge Claude Emmons said if she is found sane, she will be returned here to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge.

Salem Tourney Rated Tossup Among Several Good Teams

Three Salem Teams Advance With Wins Wednesday Night

It's any one of a half dozen teams in the Salem Independent basketball tournament. The classy outfits aren't hard to spot. In fact, more than one observer has said Joe Kelley has assembled his best tourney field in the long history of the cage event.

Last night cash customers again got their money's worth, as 14 teams paraded onto the floor and seven walked off with victories, cutting the field to an even 20 teams.

The cream of the crop is left and the games will be getting better from now on.

Five Salem-sponsored quintets played last night with varying success. Three—Mullins, Amvets 1 and Colony Inn—racked up victories, while two—Bliss and Fisher News—met defeat.

The most spine-tingling tilt of the night, one that had the fans on their feet, was the Leetonia Cleaners-Colony Inn tussle. The Leetonia club, composed of Mt. Union underclassmen, dropped the thing, 61-59, after a terrific battle. Lee Thomas of Columbiana staged an exhibition of pinpoint shooting, as he meshed 25 points.

THE COLONY INN five overcame a one-point deficit in the fourth quarter to nip the Leetonia bunch at the wire.

Salem's city champions, Mullins, decisively whipped Youngstown Demolay's, 70-36, in their game. Lowell Myers pushed in 25 points to pace the locals, while Norm Smith got 13.

Amvets 1 beat Sebring, 56-38, as Harry Ehrhart and Ray McGaffic paced the attack with 15 each. Tut Guappone had 10.

The Salem Bliss team was beaten, 31-18, by a Farrell team, composed of the Farrell High varsity. Bliss was held to six field goals.

Fisher News trailed badly throughout their game with Sharon, but managed to close the gap considerably before losing, 48-44. John Girscht pushed in 12 points to lead his team.

Powerful Canton Cal's, led by Bevier Bell's 22 tallies, whipped Lowellville, 70-39, and must be rated as one of the top teams in the tourney.

In the windup, Morgantown pinned a 46-35 defeat on New Brighton.

Play continues at the Memorial building tonight, with seven more games.

Former Salemite Takes Shuffleboard Title

All the way from Florida comes the news that a former Salem woman, Mrs. Bessie Henderson, has won the "Tournament of Champions" women's singles championship at the Tampa Shuffleboard Club.

Mrs. Henderson is the former Bessie Mercer of Salem. Earlier last week she won The Evening Independent's city singles title at St. Petersburg, where she resides. She and her husband, Frank, have won several doubles titles in shuffleboard.

(Ed. Note: Shuffleboard is probably the leading sport in St. Petersburg, home of many elderly, retired couples.)

Allie Reynolds Goes The Route

Hoot Evers Hits Two Homers In Detroit Win

The shift from grinding out yardage off tackle to banging baseballs off major league fences may turn out all right yet for Cincinnati outfielder Lloyd Merriman.

Stanford's former backfield ace, scrapping for a regular centerfield spot, had a great day yesterday. Considered a light hitter, Merriman smacked a three-run homer in Cincy's 16-5 victory over the Atlanta Crackers. Better yet, he added four more hits.

In his first season up last year, the inexperienced Merriman hit only .230 in 103 games. He broke in with Columbia of the South Atlantic League in 1948, batting .298.

Detroit's Hoot Evers also had a heavy day. Evers keeps on hitting the long ones, this time two home runs in the Tigers' 11-9 victory over Macon. One came with the bases full.

Two New York pitchers hurled complete games. Larry Jansen of the Giants allowed Cleveland only four hits in New York's 8-2 victory. But watch out Joe Page: Allie Reynolds also lasted nine innings and he defeated the Cardinals, 8-4.

All last season Reynolds pitched only four complete games while winning 17, most of them with the help of relief pitcher Page. Another milestone, Reynolds is the first Yankee pitcher to go the route this spring.

Joe DiMaggio's legs gave out again. The great outfielder pulled a muscle in his calf while running to first but he is expected back in the lineup in a few days.

Billy Southworth seems happy with his Boston Braves this spring. The veteran manager chirps, "It's the best Boston squad I've ever brought north."

Only drawback is first baseman Earl Torgeson's twisted knee. The young outfielder is leaving the squad for Boston to take treatments.

In the last few seasons the Chicago Cubs have come out on the wrong end of 22-12 scores. But not yesterday. They unloaded five homers, two by Andy Pafko, in walloping the St. Louis Browns.

At least one ballplayer believes there's less future in pitching than in driving a taxi. Rookie Howard (Diz) Sutherland, placed on option to Chattanooga by Washington, said nothing doing. Rather than go back to the minors, Sutherland says, he'll go back to hacking.

NCAA Makes Change In Tourney Setup

CHICAGO, April 6—(AP)—The NCAA has put an end to internal squabbling over selections for its postseason basketball tournament by doubling the field to 16 teams and automatically including 10 major conference champions.

The method of selecting tourney entries is being worked out by a committee headed by Arthur (Dutch) Lonborg, new athletic director at the University of Kansas. It was reliably learned today that champions of the nation's 10 major conferences will go and the other six berths will be filled from so-called "members at large."

Generally regarded as the dominating conferences are Pacific Coast, Big Ten, Skyline Six, Big Seven, Border, Missouri Valley, Southwest, Southeast, Southern and Ivy League.

There will be no fixed limit on the number of teams chosen from any one of the NCAA's eight districts other than certifying eight from the east and eight from the west for divisional playoffs.

Thus, if a smaller school or independent has a fine record against representative opposition, it could be selected along with the major conference winner in the same district.

Emil Sitko Signed By San Francisco 49'ers

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6—(AP)—All-America fullback Emil (Six Yard) Sitko of Notre Dame joined forces today with the San Francisco Forty Niners to bolster the local club's hopes for the National Professional Football League race this year.

Acquisition of Sitka, a four-year mainstay at Notre Dame, was hailed by Coach L. T. "Buck" Shaw. The 5-foot 8-inch, 180-pounder joins a backfield that includes slick quarterback Frankie Albert and right half John Strzykalski.

Sitko, 25-years-old and from Fort Wayne, Ind., played for the Great Lakes Navy team in 1943 and the St. Mary's Naval preflight squad in 1945.

Boosters Club To Hold Track Session

Next Wednesday night the Salem High School track squad will have its inning at the expense of the Salem Boosters Club.

The Boosters, President Tim Hoppes has revealed, will hold a special session, with the tracksters as guests of honor. It will go at 8 p. m. in the Memorial building.

The thinclads, and their coach Frank Tarr, will hear C. R. Bearmore of Alliance, who was official A. A. U. photographer at the 1936 Olympics in Berlin. He plans to show the group several track films. One is a 10-minute picture, showing the highlights of the '36 Olympics and another is a 35-minute color film showing past national track and field champions in action.

The attractive program should draw heavily on the Boosters general membership, which is naturally invited. A dutch lunch is to be served following the meeting.

"Doc" Gallagher Is New Billiard Champ

Roscoe "Doc" Gallagher, veteran Salem pocket billiard star, Tuesday night regained his city championship in the finals of the Recreation Billiards annual tournament.

"Doc" defeated Valley Altomare of Salem 125-63 in the final of the double-elimination tourney. Altomare had previously beaten Henry "Dempsey" Balsley, 1949 champion.

In moving through the tournament undefeated, Gallagher also took high run honors as he ran off 30 consecutive balls in the Tuesday match. He received a cash prize and a trophy.

The Recreation's three cushion billiard tournament is now underway, with several first round matches having been played. Last year's winner, Louie Quinn, tasted defeat in his first match against Orrie "Hoss" Wright, thus assuring the crowning of a new champion this year.

Goalie Whips Barons In Hockey Playoff

CLEVELAND, April 6—(AP)—Chunky Terry Sawchuk, 20-year-old Indianapolis goalie, got credit today for putting the Capitals one-up on the Cleveland Barons in the best-of-seven-game American Hockey League finals.

As Indianapolis won the opener, 4-1, here last night before 7,121 fans, Sawchuk made 43 stops. Eighteen of them were in the last period when the Barons slashed the puck at him from all distances and directions.

The second game of the series will be played here Saturday. The next two will be at Indianapolis Sunday and Thursday.

After a scoreless first period, Gerry Reid got the Caps' first score at 2:33 of the second. Rod Morrison got the second Indianapolis tally at 8:22.

The other two scores for the winners were by defenseman Al Dewsberry at 18:41 of the second period, and by Pat Lundy at 4:44 of the last period.

Cleveland's only score was by Tod Sloan at 9:41 of the second period.

The Barons missed defenseman Steve Kraftcheck, and Roy Kelly, the league's leading goal getter. Kraftcheck was out with an injury before the game and Kelly suffered a twisted knee in the first period.

Gordon Haidy, Cap right wing, was back in the lineup after having played for Detroit against Toronto Tuesday in the National League's Stanley Cup series.

Now Lou Likes Luke's Fielding

Thinks He'll Be Used Every Day; No Shift

DALLAS, Tex., April 6—(AP)—Luke Easter is turning out to be a fielder as well as a slugger, claims Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians.

As the Indians arrived here to resume their exhibition series with the New York Giants, Boudreau still was talking about big Luke's almost unbelievable catch yesterday when the Tribe lost to the Giants at Houston 8-2.

Easter speared Alvin Dark's line while crossing the right field foul line for a sensational second-inning catch.

What's more, Boudreau now is convinced Luke can hit both right and left-handed chuckers. Accordingly, Lou's current plans—subject to change again—are to play Easter every day and discard the platoon outfield system he rigged up last month to pit right-handed batters against southpaw pitching.

Yesterday was the first time this exhibition season a pitcher went the route against the Tribe. Larry Jansen, the Giants' ace, gave up only four bingles and none after the third inning.

Bob Lemon, Indians star right-hander, was nicked for six runs and eight hits in seven innings. Dick Rozek allowed the Giants two runs and two hits in their final turn at bat.

A pitching shortage currently is bothering Boudreau. Al Benton left the squad to hurry to his sick mother. Mike Garcia's mother died Saturday, and he won't rejoin the team until late this week. Hal Saltzman is recovering from a sore back, and Bob Feller from a severe virus infection. And Tuesday Sam Zoldak got barked on the shins by a batted ball.

More Arguments; Cobb Better Man Than Ruth Says Shotten

DALLAS, Texas, April 6—(AP)—Baseball people are still taking sides in the recent Associated Press poll to decide the greatest player of the past 50 years.

The latest to disagree with the nation's sportswriters who gave the honor to Babe Ruth is Manager Burt Shotton of the Brooklyn Dodgers. He names Ty Cobb as the greatest player during the first half of the century.

"Why don't they ask those who saw both Ruth and Cobb in their prime which is the better player?" Shotton wanted to know.

"Why don't they ask me?

"I played against both," he went on, "and to me there was none that ever came close to Cobb. Anybody who played against him would tell you there never was a player like Cobb."

During the stretch from 1909 to 1918 while Burt was playing in the outfield for the St. Louis Browns, Cobb won the batting title every year except one, in 191.6, when Tris Speaker beat him out.

"I bet Cobb could beat you more times than Ruth, and in more ways," he said. "There wasn't a thing tha fiery Georgian couldn't do. He hit over .400 three times. He once stole 96 bases in a season. He collected over 4,000 hits and scored more than 3,000 runs.

"Sure Ruth was a great home run hitter," Shotton conceded, "But they had to change the game for him. They made over the ball. They even built a ball park to suit him."

Alvin Dark, Eddie Stanky, New Giants, Give Needed Lift To Durocher's Twirlers

By HARRY GRAYSON

COLUMBIA, S. C.—(NEA)—The "new" Giants, and the baseball writers traveling with them, have talked a good pennant throughout the training season.

Leo Durocher is always excellent copy in the spring, and stepped up with "his kind of a ball club."

And scouts wo watched the New York Nationals in the far west and on their swing through the oil belt with the Indians tell you there is some basis for the optimism.

ALVIN DARK and Eddie Stanky are averaging more than a double play a game.

This gives the pitching a terrific lift—pitching that in more recent years was repeatedly left in holes by a multiple of second base combinations being utterly unable to get two.

"Durocher's pitching is much better than it has been painted," says a veteran observer, who doesn't care to be quoted. "Jansen, Jones, Kennedy and Koslo are solid pitchers with fine earned-run averages. Dave Koslo, as a matter of fact, led the major leagues with 2.50. And Jack Kramer's arm is all right. Don't forget that he won 18 while losing only 5 for the Red Sox two years ago.

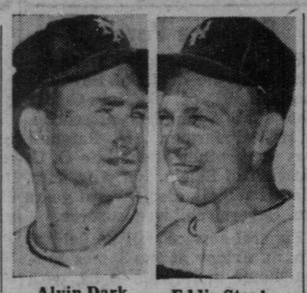

"Durocher has already picked Sal Maglie, an experienced hand back from the Mexican League, as his relief worker. Maglie has moxie with men on base, gets the ball over the plate, which is what it takes to get out of a jam.

"THE GIANTS are already set on their pitching, and that's the best way yet devised for getting off on the right foot."

It was pointed out to the old scout that Dark was being faulted as the only shortstop to field the ball off to one side.

"Well, I'll take Durocher's word on Dark," replied the old scout. "And Frank Frisch also puts the okeh on him. Durocher and Frisch were great infielders, should know a shortstop when they see one."

Alvin Dark Eddie Stanky

The old scout was reminded that Dark fell off more than somewhat in his sophomore year.

"That is true," admitted the old scout, "but he couldn't have been too happy with the Braves under the circumstances, and figures to really move in his third season.

"POWER was sacrificed, of course, when Mize was peddled and Sid Gordon, Marshall and Cooper traded, but this club can still pound the ball.

"A pair of youngsters have to stand up—Jack Harshman at first base and Don Mueller in right field—but both look like hitters.

"Henry Thompson last year demonstrated that he will do at third.

"With Dark, Thompson and Lockman, he gives the club extraordinary speed."

"Who's going to catch?" the old scout was asked.

"Wes Westrum," he replied. "He's the most improved member of the squad, hitting .350. Remember that Carl Hubbell and Tom Sheehan touted him highly when he first came up, but Cooper was ahead of him, and he didn't take too good care of himself."

NEW YORK was fifth last trip, 24 games out. With the double play for a change and Durocher's maneuvering — hitting and running, the squeeze, etc.—the club could pick up that many. Regardless of what you may think of The Lip, he's far from being a dope on the firing line.

The Giants are certain to be more interesting, which is good news for the fans who stuck with them while Manager Durocher was running them in and out like football players in the platoon system.

Now that you'll be able to tell the Giants without a scorecard, the more loyal addicts won't be so lonesome in the Polo Grounds.

Dugout Room Is Yanks' Worry

Stengel Does His Best With Mob Treatment

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(NEA)—A year ago the baseball scriveners scrivened that the Yankees were falling apart like a loose bale of hay.

The older heads were a year older, it was pointed out.

Charles Dillon Stengel was just getting acquainted with the hired hands.

Joe DiMaggio was limping around on America's No. 1 heel.

So the New York Americans went out and led until the next to the last weekend, then came again to take it all and four out of five from the Dodgers in the World Series.

THIS WITH the great DiMaggio out of the first 65 games and despite 83 separate injuries and sick spells.

And here are the older Yankees another year older and looking better than ever, and the club overloaded with talent.

If there is the slightest apprehension is is in connection with Tom Henrich's recurrent knee trouble.

The Bombers are so well equipped everywhere that the other clubs, especially the Senators, can't wait until May 15, when waivers will have to be asked on several, in order to get down to the 25-player limit.

UNTIL THEN, Casey Stengel once more will give the opposition the mob treatment.

Manager Stengel will have more swing shifts than an all-night restaurant.

He has 11 pitchers—the right-handed Raschi, Reynolds, Porterfield, Sanford, Shea, Pillette, Marshall and Don Johnson and the left-handed Lopat, Byrne and Page.

Johnson back from Sacramento, at 23 seemingly has settled down to be the remarkable pitcher he was cut out to be.

Stengel has four catchers—Berra, Silvera, Niarhos and Houk.

HE HAS three first basemen—Henrich, Joe Collins and Mize. Collins, left-handed all the way, hit 20 home runs, drove in 83 runs batting .319 for Kansas City.

The Bronx brigade has three second basemen—Coleman, Stirnweiss and Billy Martin, each of whom can play shortstop and third base. Martin is an exceptional Italian kid from Oakland who came with Outfielder Jackie Jensen in one of the biggest recruit deals in Yankee history.

The matchless Little Scooter Rizzuto is the shortstop, of course, with Dr. Bobby Brown and Bill Johnson again doing part-time work on the other side of him.

Stengel has eight outfielders and Henrich can always be turned out there. The others are DiMaggio, Woodling, Lindell, Bauer, Mapes, Jensen, Wakefield and Delsing.

Dugout housing is the Yankees' biggest problem.

Buddy Young of New York's bulldog football team started playing when he was 11 years old as a member of the Junior Cardinals who performed between halves of the Chicago Cardinal's games.

Major League Ball On Coast May Arrive Automatically

By LAWTON CARVER

NEW YORK, April 6—(INS)—The day approaches when key cities in the Pacific Coast League will be the nucleus of a third major league.

President Pants Roland of the Coast League is among those reportedly against a change in classification from Triple A minor league to major league status, but two factors will force the showdown.

The Coast League, seeking virtual parity with the majors through demands for concessions in the draft and otherwise, will reach the point eventually where it will be a major league in essence, if not in fact. The fact then soon will follow, with a new organization.

Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler only a few days ago promised a further revision of the draft regulations between the Coast League and the majors to appease recalcitrant Coast League clubs.

THE SECOND factor—and the one predominant in far western dreams of becoming a major league — centers around the growth of many cities outside the major leagues since these latter came into their present alignment nearly a half-century ago.

Cincinnati is surpassed in population by 10 minor league cities—Los Angeles, Baltimore, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Buffalo, Houston, Minneapolis, New Orleans, Dallas, and Seattle.

Four major league cities, Boston, which has two teams, Pittsburgh, Washington and Cincinnati, have less population than Los Angeles and Baltimore of the minors.

That provides the main background on my recent story saying that San Francisco and Oakland were ready to pull out of the Coast League to go outlaw, if necessary, in pursuit of major league status.

Commissioner Chandler has appeased the threatening revolutionists with his backing of their views provided they present them "through baseball channels." What they seek is a revision of rules enabling the majors to draft Coast League players for $10,000 after they have served four years in that minor league.

FINALLY, THERE will be no draft between the majors and the Coast League and the next move will be for the Coast League to establish itself as a league beyond the pale of baseball law written into the major-minor agreement.

It will slide into the majors if it fails to revolt outright.

However, Paul Fagan, owner of the San Francisco club, and Brick Laws, who runs Oakland, will continue to hold possible revolt over the head of the majors as they are doing now. They may be using this as merely a chisel to get their demands, but in any case are determined to fight a battle for the Coast League.

The move definitely is on for a third major league to take in the cities which have grown to full major league status in a half-century and sooner or later baseball will be forced to make a new alignment.

There is movie money in California and oil money in Texas—plus some eastern capital—ready to be poured into the project.

Hill Prince Wins In Jamaica 'Cap

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—The Kentucky Derby will be run a month from today, and as of now, Oil Capitol and Hill Prince stack up as the "big two."

Oil Capitol, Tom Gray's Flamingo Stakes winner, recently arrived on the Derby scene at Louisville from Hialeah, Fla., and began training in the role of a 7 to 2 favorite for the May 6 classic. Meanwhile, most lines had C. T. Chenery's Virginian, Hill Prince, at 6 to 1.

But the oddsmakers were busy today shuffling their quotations for the blue grass extravaganza and it wouldn't be surprising if they move Hill Prince right up there with Oil Capitol because of the way the charger won yesterday's experimental handicap No. 1 at Jamaica.

It was the tall bay's first 1950 start and verified his excellent form as a juvenile. He answered the only question that needed to be answered—that he is as good as he was last year.

Ace Jockey Eddie Arcaro said just that after guiding the Prince to a length and a quarter triumph in the six furlong test, supplementing his remark with, "and that is something."

The strapping son of the cup horse, Princequillo, ran one of his typical races, spotting many lengths to faster beginners, then coming on with a characteristic stretch kick in slop and rain. His time, 1:12, was good in such going. With Arcaro sitting still, the colt worked out a full mile in 1:40 flat.

NLRB Chairman Favors Cut In Denham's Authorities

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board told Senators today that its division of powers with the Board's general counsel, Robert Denham, has been a "failure." It said Denham's separate authority should be abolished.

Paul Herzog, NLRB chairman, told the Senate expenditures committee the board supports President Truman's plan for reorganizing the agency.

The plan calls for removing Denham's present independent authority and making him subordinate to the board. Denham was due to testify some time after the NLRB chairman.

Herzog said in his prepared testimony that the present division of power fixed by the Taft-Hartley Act has caused friction within the agency, "confusion among management and labor unions," and has provoked "uncertainty and litigation."

Witnesses representing the National Association of Manufacturers and the United States Chamber of Commerce told the committee yesterday the President's plan, if allowed to go into effect, would undermine public confidence in the board.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who supported a transfer of Denham's powers to the board last summer, now opposes the idea. Taft said Tuesday the President's plan to wipe out Denham's authority would make Herzog "the most powerful labor czar" in the country.

Without referring directly to Taft's contention, Herzog said the President's plan would place "all investigatory and regulatory functions," not in him as chairman, but "in the five men who comprise the entire" NLRB.

Car president, in a letter to a CIO United Steelworkers official:

"This plant was closed in July of 1949 when our order book was completed. Since that time car orders from the railroads have been very scarce and the company has received no orders whatsoever.

"During the last several months the company has incurred considerable expense by way of engineering and layout planning for the McKees Rocks (Pa.) property which should result in far more plant efficiency than was the case heretofore. These plans can only be put into effect when we are assured of sufficient orders from the railroad industry."

But the oldtimers shake their heads.

"It would take a couple of million dollars to get back into production," said Edward Ozga. "I'm afraid we won't get work here again for a long time—if ever."

Ozga said he worked 13 years in the plant. When he was laid off, he was a millwright.

Chrysler, GM Stock Rise On Market

NEW YORK, April 6—(AP)—Big blocks of Chrysler and General Motors sold at higher prices at the opening of today's stock market.

Demand was stimulated by renewed hope that the 72-day strike against Chrysler might be settled.

Chrysler opened ½ up at 67 and General Motors started off ⅛ ahead at 79⅞.

The balance of the market headed upward.

Higher prices were paid for American Can, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Vultee, Houston Oil, Kennecott Copper, N. Y. Central, Radio Corp., Standard Oil (NJ), International Paper, Studebaker, Nash-Kelvinator, and Goodrich.

Holding back were Anaconda Copper, Bethlehem Steel and DuPont.

be tested in a court of the United States." Lattimore added:

Suggests He Quit

"He said that if he should fail to do this he would resign. He has been called to repeat his charges so that they could be tested in a court of action. He has failed to do so. And he has not resigned."

Lattimore declared:

"I think that I would be the instrument of a great service to the country if the Senator should resign, and I want to deal with each of his charges."

At another point, Lattimore recalled that McCarthy had voiced his espionage agent charge off the Senate floor. He said this "has a bearing upon an action for libel which I propose to discuss with my attorneys at the earliest possible moment."

Of McCarthy's description of Lattimore as the architect of this country's Far Eastern policy — a policy McCarthy regards as disastrous—Lattimore declared:

Never Made Policy

"The fact is that I have never held a position in the United States government in which I could make policy. The fact is that I have been very little consulted by those who do make policy—before Pearl Harbor, during the war or since the war.

"I think I can fairly claim—with great regret—that I am the least consulted man of all those who have a public reputation in this country as specialists on the Far East.

"The last chapters of my book, "Solution of Asia," published in 1945, a few months before the end of the war, are a crowded catalogue of unaccepted recommendations."

Discussing his own views on China and the Far East—views McCarthy has said follow the Communist line, Lattimore said:

"It is possible for people, including officials of the United States government, to oppose further aid to the Nationalist government of China without being disloyal to the United States, or pro-Communist."

Did You Know?

THE "DID YOU KNOW" game is fun to play now and then. Let us apply it to bananas.

DID YOU KNOW how really delicious is banana upside down cake for a late March dessert? Serve it to the family as a special treat or serve it with coffee to friends who drop in for an evening of canasta or bridge. We give the recipe today.

DID YOU KNOW that banana Dutch coffee cake is ideal for the Sunday morning breakfast?

DID YOU KNOW that bananas are sometimes called "fruit of the wise men" because of an old tradition that the sages of India reposed in the shade of a banana plant and refreshed themselves with the fruit?

DID YOU KNOW that the banana plant when fully grown and ready to bear fruit reaches a height from 15 to 30 feet and the base measures from nine to 16 inches in diameter?

DID YOU KNOW that each banana plant bears only a single bunch of bananas? After the fruit is harvested it is cut down, quickly decays and enriches the soil.

DID YOU KNOW that even when bananas are to be eaten in the tropics the fruit is not allowed to ripen on the plant? If it does it is likely to burst open, attract insects and have a rather unpleasant taste.

DID YOU KNOW that bananas are shipped green to this country? Warehouses have large ripening rooms which keep the fruit under ideal weather conditions.

YOU DO KNOW from Chiquita Banana that bananas should not be stored in the refrigerator.

YOU DO KNOW that bananas lightly flecked with brown are best for eating.

YOU DO KNOW that bananas of light yellow color are excellent for cooking, but should stand at room temperature before serving fresh.

So much for today's game. Now here is the recipe for the banana upside down cake.

Banana Upside Down Cake

1½ c cake flour
1½ t baking powder
¼ t salt
¾ c sugar
4 T softened shortening
1 egg, well beaten
½ c milk
1 t vanilla
4 T butter or margarine
1/3 c finely packed brown sugar
2 bananas
1/3 c whole walnut halves

Preheat oven to moderate, 350 degrees. Sift flour, meausure and return to sifter. Add baking powder, salt, and sugar. Sift altogether into mixing bowl. Add shortening. Beat egg, add milk and vanilla.. Stir into flour mixture. Stir until all flour is dampened. Beat vigorously one minute.

Melt butter or margarine in an eight-inch square pan. Add brown sugar and stir over a low heat until sugar is melted and sirup is formed. Remove from heat. Arrange diagonally sliced bananas and nuts, or cherries in sirup. Pour in batter. Bake in preheated oven, 350 degrees, until cake is nicely browned and shrinks from the sides of the pan, 40 to 50 minutes.

Banana Dutch Coffee Cake

1¼ t baking powder
½ t salt
¼ c shortening
1 egg, well beaten

Grease an eight-inch square pan. Preheat oven to moderate, 350 degrees. Sift flour, measure and return to sifter. Add baking powder, salt and sugar. Sift together into mixing bowl. Blend in shortening as for biscuits or pastry. Beat egg and add milk. Stir into flour mixture. Stir until well blended. Spread stiff dough into greased pan. It will spread quite thin. Cut peeled bananas into diagonal slices one-half inch thick. Cover surface of dough with overlapping pieces of bananas. Brush bananas with melted butter or margarine. Banana ice cream is a prime favorite with all. This is the way we make it.

Honey Talk For Spring

SPRING has come! How can we tell? Robins, Easter bunnies and honey bees are all beginning to make themselves known. Honey, a tried and true sweetener since ancient times, has many modern recope uses. Honey is an excellent cookie or cake ingredient. A honey frosting for cake is easily made by spreading warm honey on the warm cake; then sprinkling with ½ cup finely crushed corn flakes crumbs and 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine. Broil until crumbs are lightly browned. This makes a delicious topping. As a special gesture to Spring, serve the cake warm with fresh strawberries and cream.

Here are additional recipes which feature honey as an ingredient. Include Honied Sweet Potatoes in your Easter dinner menu as an accompaninent to the Easter ham. Try the Honey Flake Kuchen with scrambled eggs and tiny sausage links for an Easter brunch.

Honey Flake Kuchen

1 c boiling water

Beat eggs until frothy; add ¼ cup sugar, milk, salt and vanilla. Mix well and pour into buttered 1½ qt. glass baking dish. Melt 1½ tablespoons sugar in a heavy skillet over low heat, stirring until melted and brown; add boiling water, let boil 1 min., stirring until sugar is dissolved. Then pour syrup slowly into the custard around the outside edges so it will run down inside the wall of the baking dish. Place the custard in a pan of hot water that comes halfway up the baking dish and bake in 300 F. oven 55 min., or until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Celery - As Is or Cooked

Celery Creole

Ingredients: 4 cups diced celery, 2 medium-sized onions (finely diced), 1 green pepper (diced), 4 tablespoons salad oil, 2 cups canned tomatoes, salt, freshly-ground pepper, sugar.

Method: Saute the celery, onions, and green pepper in the salad oil until partly tender. Add the tomatoes and mix well; season with salt, pepper and sugar to taste. Cover and cook, stirring frequently, until celery is as tender as desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Stuffed Celery

Ingredients: 1 small bunch Pascal celery, 1 3-ounce package celery, 1 three-ounce package cream cheese, 2 tablespoons Gorgonzola cheese, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, paprika.

Method: Cut leaty tops from celery as well as narrow ends of stalks that will not take much filling; reserve for use in soups and salads. Wash remaining stalks well with vegetable brush in cold water and scrape off any outside bruises. Dry thoroughly with a towel. Have cream cheese at room temperature and mash with mixing spoon; add the Gorgonzola cheese (also at room temperature) and beat in well. Beat in mayonnaise. Fill stalks with cheese mixture and sprinkle lightly with paprika. Chill. Cut in wedges or serve as is. Makes about 6 servings.

Celery and Carrots

Ingredients: 1 cup diced carrots, 1 cup diced celery, ½ cup (about) boiling water, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, salt and freshly-ground pepper (to taste).

Method: Cut the diced carrots and celery in ¼ to ½-inch cubes. Put in a saucepan with the water; keep water bubbling actively, cover saucepan and cook only until vegetables are tender crisp—about 10 minutes over low heat. watch carefully and reduce heat or add a few tablespoons more water if necessary; water should have entirely evaporated by time vegetables are done. Add butter or margarine, salt and pepper to taste. Stir to coat vegetables with fat and serve at once. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Orange Celery Salad

Peel oranges being careful to remove all white membrane. Cut sections away from membrane with small sharp knife. Put orange sections on watercress or other salad greens. Stuff celery with any favorite cream cheese filling and cut stalks into one-inch wedges; arrange on salad. Serve with well-seasoned French dressing.

Liverwurst and Celery Sandwich

¼ pound liverwurst
3 T softened butter or margarine
1 c finely chopped celery
2T chopped green olives
2 T mayonnaise

Mash liverwurst. Combine ingredients thoroughly. Yield: 1¼ cups sandwich filling.

Cream Cheese, Celery and Olive Sandwiches on Raisin Bread

Ingredients: 1 three-ounce package cream cheese, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise of mayonnaise-type salad dressing, 2 tablespoons finely diced pimiento-stuffed olives (4 large olives), 1/3 cup finely diced celery, 8 slices raisin bread.

Method: Soften the cream cheese in a small mixing bowl spoons mayonnaist or mayonnaise or salad dressing and mix well. Mix in olives and celery. This makes ¾ cup; spread 3 tablespoons of it on each of 4 slices of the raisin bread and top with remaining bread. Cut off crusts if desired and slice each sandwich into 4 small triangles. Or leave sandwiches untrimmed and whole and spread one side of each with butter or margarine; toast quickly under the broiler, turn and spread remaining sides with butter or margarine and finish toasting, then cut each sandwich in four. Use high heat but watch carefully so bread toasts quickly and filling is only slightly warmed.

The custom of wearing orange blossoms at weddings is thought to have originated with the Moors. Orange blossoms to those people were symbols of chastity and fecundity.

Small Talk

Expressive before the camera, the diaper set also is wordwise, or should be. On authority of the editor of Stork News, Syms (Samuel B. Gornbein) of Los Angeles, these babies have as much to say as any adult and in about the same way.

"Hey, Mabel, did yo shave your legs with my razor?"

"Do you have to keep your nose in the paper?"

"No, but I've got a friend named Herman."

"Can you cash a personal check?"

The Modern Farm

1950 Hen Producing 2 Times More Eggs Than Fowl In 1900

WASHINGTON, April 6 —(AP)—A food scientist estimated today the farmyard hen is making about the same progress as the horseless carriage in improving her fuel mileage.

Dr. H. J. Prebluda of New York, nutritionist, estimated the 1950 model hen is producing just about twice as many eggs per pound of feed as the hens of 1900 produced.

Dr. Prebluda made his estimates for a meeting of the National Farm Chemurgic Conference, a group of farmers, scientists and businessmen interested in finding new crops, new ways to use old crops and uses for waste materials, to improve U. S. living standards.

He said an important reason a hen produces more eggs per pound of feed today is that science has taken much of the non-productive substances, like fibers, out of chickenfeed. Egg-building substances and vitamins, in concentrated forms, have been added.

So hens eat less food but produce more eggs. Dr. Prebluda conceded that the breeding of hens with greater egg laying ability also is a factor but he said a lot of the credit has to go to better chickenfeed.

He estimated that even though science had added vitamins and other products generally considered costly, the hen's food today is about 10 percent cheaper than would be the present cost of the standard mash that was fed 25 years ago. He said this is possible because many of the vitamins in today's feeds come from by-products of such things as flour making, soy bean milling, and the fermentation industry and the cost is comparatively low.

In another paper prepared for today's session, Ollie E. Fink, executive secretary of the organization, Friends of the Land, of Columbus, O., said city people should remember that soil conservation is more important to them than farmers.

He said it is the farmer who eats first; production beyond the need of the farm families is sent to the cities. If there are food shortages, because of low crop production, the city people will be the first to suffer, Fink said.

Dr. Philip J. Schaible, executive director of the Distillers Feed Research Council, Cincinnati, O., told the chemurgists that by-products of liquor distilled from grains are becoming important in livestock feeding.

Since 1933, about 4,000,000 tons of distillers feeds, valued at $200,000,000, have been recovered, he said.

Area 4-H Advisors Win Service Awards

Nineteen Mahoning County 4-H Advisors were given recognition for their years of service as 4-H Advisors at the sixth annual recognition ceremony during Farm and Home Week at Ohio State University.

The theme for the recognition ceremony was "Thus They Serve."

The Mahoning County advisors were able to attend as a part of the 4-H awards premium sponsored by the Mahoning Agricultural Society.

Recognition Day was divided into two sections; first, a luncheon at Baker Hall, and, second, recognition program in University Hall Chapel. During the luncheon, representatives of the New York Central Railroads, donors of the clover award pins, praised the work being accomplished by 4-H advisors.

The speaker of the program, vice president Harlan Hatcher of Ohio State University, paid high tribute to the educational work of the 4-H advisors. Mr. Hatcher described the advisors as "Professors Without Portfolios".

A representative presentation of the clover awards to each group, 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 years of service, concluded the ceremony.

Advisors from Mahoning County receiving the awards were:

Miss Elizabeth Arrel, Poland, and Darrel Bacon, New Springfield, 10-year gold clover award. Armand Houk, Harry Snyder of Austintown; Miss Marjorie Stryffeler, Ralph Schrock of North Jackson; Mrs. Clarence Weingart, Mrs. Fred Weingart, Roy Capel of Goshen Township.

Mrs. John Reynolds of Beloit; Mrs. Harry Kariher of New Middletown; Mrs. Russell Johns, Willard Miller of Coitsville; Edward Sakely of Palond; Harold Slagle of Boardman, and John Metzler of New Springfield all received the five-year silver clover award.

Information Given On Fruit Spray Use

WOOSTER, April 6—(INS)—Following is the year's first spray talk from the Fruit Spray Service information division of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster:

During the pre-blossom period, apple scab is of primary concern to orchardists.

The pre-blossom sprays are most important for the control of apple scab, but to do the best job they must put on the new foliage as soon as the apple scab spores are mature in the old leaves and just ahead of rain periods of sufficient duration to discharge spores and wet the new growth long enough to permit infection to occur.

What is the scab spores situation in Ohio? The scab spores are well along in development.

Old leaves recently received from cooperators in the Adams and Jackson areas in southern Ohio, from the Delaware area and from the Wooster, Salem, Lorain and lake areas now contain spores that are approaching maturity.

The temperature during the winter months was rather favorable to early maturity of the scab fungus and rains were frequent enough to provide moisture.

In the Cincinnati area, apple varieties, except Rome, vary from green tip to delayed dormant and early varieties are now approaching green tip in the Jackson area.

With this picture of scab spore and bud development, growers in the southern Ohio areas should plan to complete the dormant oil sprays as rapidly as possible and be alert to the possible need for a scab spray in the late delayed dormant this season.

Administration Blamed For Farm Surpluses

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—"Mismanagement and unsound policies" cause big farm crop surpluses under agricultural price supports, Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) said in a statement yesterday.

He denied that "makeshift legislation as charged by the president" was responsible, and he hit at importation of farm products in surplus supply. He said: "Why should he (President Truman) continue the do nothing policy that permits the stealing of our farmers' domestic market by foreign competition?"

46 Shorthorn Cattle To Be Auctioned Off

Forty-six head of Scotch Shorthorn cattle will be auctioned off to the highest bidders at the Southern Ohio Shorthorn Breeders sale at the Georgetown, Ohio, Fairgrounds at 1 p. m. Saturday.

The Georgetown sale, which is the second of three such events sponsored by the Ohio Shorthorn Breeders Association this spring, will feature 12 registered bulls, ranging in age from one to two years, and 24 registered females, several with calves. As a special attraction, ten commercial Shorthorn heifers will be offered in addition to the purebred stock.

SPUDS GET THE BLUES—At Cohocton, N. Y., workmen at a government storage plant spray a freight carload of potatoes with a dye of "taxpayer blue" color. The surplus spuds, bought by the U. S. to keep prices up, are died blue to prevent their being used for commercial purposes.

New Hope Seen For Ohio Pears

Fire Blight Blamed For Previous Losses

Ohio pear production has dropped heavily during the last decade.

Fire blight has destroyed so many trees that production has become hazardous both for home gardeners and commercial growers. Fire blight kills trees by girdling the trunk or the main scaffold limbs most closely adjacent to the point of intersection with the trunk.

Since Bartlett is much in demand and usually commands satisfactory prices wherever it can be supplied, it is most unfortunate that production is prevented chiefly by this one factor.

Old Home is usually grown either on a seedling rootstock or on its own roots. The young tree is planted just as any tree might be; after developing lateral branches sufficiently thick in diameter, the preferred variety is budded or grafted on these laterals a foot or two from the trunk. Budding may begin the first growing season after the one year whip is planted, but usually starts the second year and continues until 8 to 12 laterals are topworked. As many laterals as possible are "worked" to give quite a number of branches as the trees mature. This topworking then form a blight-resistant framework, greatly reducing, if not preventing, loss of trees from girdling, even though the susceptibility of the variety topworked is not decreased. Since injury is confined to the branch this is a definite improvement. The organism may spread to the point of union between stock and scion; at that point further development is restricted. The branch will have to be removed at the point of union but the tree remains. The stub may then be topworked again but this is not always necessary if enough of the branches remain unaffected.

Experience during the past 13 years at the Ohio Experimental station has been very satisfactory. Only two pear trees on Old Home have been lost as compared with over 100 on other stocks or on their own trunks.

Fortunately all standard pear varieties appear to be compatible with Old Home. It is not completely immune to blight but as an excellent alternative, may be the means of maintaining pear production, particularly in northern Ohio. Trees of this variety may be purchased from several Ohio nurseries. These trees are developed on Bartlett seedling rootstock; but if deeply planted, roots tend to develop from the Old Home trunk in which case roots are blight resistant as well. Few trees, however, are lost in Ohio from blight infection at the roots. Old Home trees developed on quince roots may be grown as dwarfs if shallowly planted.

Supplemental measures to reduce the ravages of blight are also desirable. Trees should be pruned little if any; their growth should be restricted by intermittently using a nitrogen-carrying fertilizer. At Wooster, this fertilizer is applied in limited amounts every second or third year only. Trees should be grown in sod and not mulched. If equipment is available they should be sprayed when in bloom. Use a weak Bordeaux mixture such as ¾-1-50. This aids in reducing blossom blight infection. Blight usually shows up during the period shortly after bloom, and infected parts should be cut off immediately. This process should be followed regularly. The wound is disinfected with a mixture of cyanide of mercury and bichloride of mercury in glyserine (1 to 500 of each in commercial glycerine).

Such measures taken in the tations' pear orchard maintains trees capable of bearing satisfactory crops. Consequently there would seem to be no reason why Ohio commercial or home growers should discontinue the planting of pears. Planting cannot be recommended, however, unless Old Home stock is used, together with the precautionary practices indicated.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Francis Wallace's Political Preview

My high school son and his gang are always eager to learn new games. When they ask me to play, I say: "No thanks. It's all I can do to keep up with what I have to do now." Then I got into politics!

I didn't go into it as a new game. One of the things wrong with politics is that too many politicians look upon it as a game; upon the voters as so many pawns to be cleverly maneuvered; upon the issue as the ball. In the process the issues often get lost and the voters often get tricked. I think the voters are fed up with that type of politician; the price of admission to their games is entirely too high; or have you looked at your take-home pay or grocery bill lately?

Why did I get into politics? Well, there's some ego involved, no doubt; and some ambition—I would feel mighty proud and humble to be chosen one of the few men who make the major decisions for this country and the world.

But those kids in the kitchen finally got me into a new game, after all. You see, I think we older people have been selling out our kids. My father left me a better country than I'll leave my boy; and who knows what kind of a country my grandson will inherit? I've been talking about that since about 1936; thinking as a Republican since 1937; I made my first Republican speeches in the campaign of 1944. So now, when the opportunity came to do something else than talk, I felt it was not just an honor but a duty.

One of these days our grandchildren may look at us accusingly and ask: "Grandpop, if this country was as good as you say it was back in 1950, what did you do about it? While you were getting yours, how come you didn't think about us? Didn't you know somebody was going to have to pick up the check someday?"

I hope they never have to ask us that; but at least I will be able to say: "Kids, I tried. I even changed political parties and put my own business aside for awhile; and tried to learn a new game."

I've been learning. The word has got around that I wasn't satisfied to just stick my chin out picking football winners in Collier's—I had to really stick it out as an ex-Democrat in a Republican primary. Only some aren't sure about the details.

Just this week I've had a letter from a Broadway character you read about in Earl Wilson and Winchell. He's an old friend—Toots Shor. He writes: "Dan Parker's column says you're a Democrat; Jimmy Powers wrote you were a Republican. That way you can't lose. Send a taxi for me if you need a vote."

That's not so funny as it sounds. I will need all the votes I can get; I can't afford to send that taxi for Toots and he couldn't vote anyhow; he's a New Yorker and a Democrat. But I've also been hearing from an awful lot of 18th District Democrats who say, in effect: "If the Republicans will nominate you for Congress in May—the Democrats will elect you in November."

After all; that's the way Taft controlled the 81st Congress —with Democratic votes.

More next week, kind folks and gentle people.

Cross Depicts God's Love - Dr. Humbert

"The Cross does something for us," Dr. Russell J. Humbert, pastor of the Youngstown Methodist Church told a large audience at the Holy Week noon-day service Wednesday in the State Theater.

Then he quoted that familiar Bible verse, "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Dr. Humbert's topic was "A Modern Affirmation of the Cross" and he pointed out that "the cross is an expression of God's love toward us."

"In this affirmation of the Cross, we must change from an attitude of unforgiveness to one of forgiveness. We pray rather easily, 'Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors,' yet we fail to realize that when we are weighed in that kind of a balance, it is a terribly exacting measurement. I cannot be a Christian and hold an unforgiving spirit," he said.

Figuratively speaking, Dr. Humbert took the cross off church steeples, out of coat lapels and away from costume jewelry counters and made it a vital experience in the life of an individual. "The cross must become more than a mere symbol, in fact it lives in spite of death, it moves us to forgiveness and faith, and in its shadow we become followers of the way."

Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the Methodist Church, presided. Misses Nancy Stockton and Janet Lehman sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Ben Bailey was the accompanist. Members of the Lions Club were hosts.

Back Payments Upheld For Jobless Claimants

COLUMBUS, April 6—(INS)—Retroactive payments to 33,300 jobless who were ruled eligible for higher unemployment compensation benefits have totaled $1,503,000 to date.

However, said BUC Administrator Frank J. Collopy today, payments on 89,500 other similar claims are being held up by appeals from employers.

The claims resulted from a new law, effective last Aug. 22, which increased the maximum jobless poy from $21 a week for 22 weeks to $25 a week for 26 weeks, plus up to $5 more as a dependancy allotment.

The Supreme court finally determined that those already out of work on that date, but receiving the old maximum, were entitled to the more liberal payments from that date on.

Dead Person's Heart Artery Saves Life

DETROIT, April 6 — (AP) — Henry Ford Hospital today reported the use of a dead person's aorta (heart artery) to save a man's life.

The aorta is the great atery of the heart. The operation involved transplantation.

Whether the operation here was without precedent was not clear. However, recently developed techniques were said to have been used.

The patient is a 57-year-old man. It was found that he was suffering from a disease of the walls of the aorta. The aorta was greatly distended and threatening to burst, which would have meant death.

Gasoline Price Hike Would Aid Highways

COLUMBUS, April 6—(INS)—Ohio motorists may be in for a two-cent tax increase on the price of gasoline..

L. F. Schaeublin, chief engineer of the Ohio highway department, told delegates to the Ohio highway engineering conference yesterday in Columbus that the tax increase may be the state's only way of providing sufficient funds to match federal highway aid as it becomes available.

SIGN WAGE PACT

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 6—(AP)—A three-city Contractors' Association and AFL union representatives yesterday signed a one-year contract granting 15-cent hourly wage increases to carpenters. NOT AS NUTTY AS IT SOUNDS

NUT FANCIERS say the macadamia is incomparable. Right now it is rare, and expensive. But Hawaii, which made the pineapple famous, hopes to repeat the performance with the tropical delicacy known as the macadamia nut. It is creamy white and has the flavor of a combination of the Brazil nut, cashew and filbert. Each nut now costs about 10 cents retail. The nut's popularity, even at this price, has convinced Hawaiians it can be a thriving new industry. A big sugar firm is clearing 1,000 acres of jungle land to find out.

The macadamia nut was introduced to Hawaii by Australia in 19th century.

Manufacturers Oppose Truman On N.L.R.B.

WASHINGTON, April 6—(AP)—A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) urged Congress today to reject President Truman's plan for reorganizating the National Labor Relations Board.

Lambert H. Miller, NAM counsel, said in testimony prepared for the senate expenditures committee that abolishing the office of general counsel to the NLRB would undermine public confidence in the board. President Truman's plan called for abolition of the office, now held by Robert Denham.

Representatives of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce were due to follow Miller in urging rejection of the plan.

Hercules Employes Turn Down Union Affiliation

CANTON, April 6—(AP)—Employes of the Hercules Motor Corp. have rejected the CIO-United Auto Workers for the second time in four years, it was announced today.

In a collective bargaining election, 880 workers voted against the UAW and 565 were in favor of the union. Hercules employes have no union, not even an independent union.

Of 1487 eligible to vote, 1464 balloted. Seventeen votes were challenged, two were voided. A similar vote was recorded in 1946.

The firm makes Diesel and gasoline motors for trucks.
